Attention: Mr Martin Power

Dear Mr. Power,

I refer to your letter of 21 November 2017.

The tribunal notes that some documents additional to the already extensive discovery made by the Department of Justice and Equality are appended to that letter. Because of the documentation already discovered by the Department, the tribunal is in a position to place these documents in context. This assists the tribunal in its enquiry. Were further consideration to be given to whether a further search for documents might yield any other potential relevant material, the tribunal would also find that of assistance.

The tribunal thanks the Minister for his assurance of cooperation and support. The tribunal regards your letter as a practical assistance to its work.

Yours truly,

Elizabeth Mullan
Solicitor to the Tribunal
